You ride with your bike from the village of Neumarkt along the “Fleimstalerstraße” in direction Montan. On the crossing to Pinzon you turn first right into the “Castelfederstraße” and then immediately left. This way runs through fruit orchards and further up into the “Pinzonerstraße”. Before you come to the village Montan, you see on the right roadside the sign “Promenaden – Wanderweg” here begins the old railway station. You follow this way nearly continuously 14km along to Kaltenbrunn. The ascent reaches about 4%. You pass some farms and after about 1 ½ km. you reach the “Glener Viadukt”, here you cross the valley. You follow this way, after that cross the national road, which leads from Montan to Truden, named “Ferrovia della Val di Fiemme”.

You ride your bike through a 140m long tunnel, over a bridge and the next tunnel leads us through the little valley to the castle Enn. You drive further in the direction to the national road with the name: “Dolomitenstraße” you drive on this further for one kilometre. After the station in Kalditsch you reach the old railway station. You pass the Pichlerhof than you drive hundred meters on a asphalted road further and turn than, when you arrive to a farm, left into the fruit orchards. You pass the Restaurant “Pausa”, and the chapel, turn than right until you reach the old station on 956m above sea level. After 2 kilometres you will reach to the old station from Kaltenbrunn on 1005m above sea level. From here you have to follow the national road in direction to Truden, you reach Truden after 2 kilometres. You across the village follow the signs to Montan and ride with your cycle uphill to the “Mühlen” (890m above sea level). Here you turn of to Gschnon, and you pass some houses. On the end of a little valley the asphalted road finished. You follow the arrow “3” Egna, it leads us on a crushed stone route. You left the road soon, and ride your cycle further on a forest way to the “Kanzel”. The descent does not present any problems, even trough the steep and stony parts need a bit of care. You reach on another forest way that passes an old lime furnace, and resumes through the Vineyards to Mazon. After you come to the asphalted road, you drive on this the long descent to Neumarkt; the starting point.
